

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

A HISTORY OF PERU. By Clements R. Markham. Pp. 560. Charles H. Golde & Co., Chicago.
This is a new volume added to the "Latin-American Republics" series, and an exceedingly good one. The author is perhaps the most competent English writer on Peru, and has already published several works on that country and the unfortunate war with Chile. While in this new publication he has drawn largely upon material furnished by his earlier works, he has brought the history of the country down to the present date and included in it a clear account of the compromises recently made with the bondholders, by which the State railways have been surrendered to the creditors and the national debt cancelled. The book is handsomely printed and illustrated, and contains all that any student of Spanish-America can desire to know about the ancient and modern history of Peru.

JUST ISSUED:

THE GREAT
OF THE

PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

A Souvenir of the Presidential Election and the Columbian Exposition of 1892.

THIS ENGRAVING is pronounced by experts to be a rare specimen of artistic work in conception, design and execution. One that satisfies every latent sentiment of patriotism in the hearts of the American people, and elicits from them approval and admiration. It no doubt will sooner or later be found handsomely framed among the walls of thousands upon thousands of American homes, while thousands of our foreign born citizens will send it to their friends in the old country.
